Planning a Blanket for Good Volunteer Event is a wonderful option for groups to volunteer together, and have fun in the process! Individuals of all ages can participate and this experience can be completed whenever and wherever it works for your group.

Blankets will be provided to local children who were once homeless but now moving into a new home with their family. The goal is to make their experience (and home!) just a bit warmer.

Step 1: Set a date! Plan a time for Blanket for Good Volunteer Event. Have fun with it - you could even include snacks and music and create a countdown to give your group something to look forward to!

Step 2: Visit unitedwaycassclay.org to let us know how many blankets you will be providing.

Step 3: Go shopping and have fun picking out your fabric.
- Bright, cheery, fun colors are great. Purchase two pieces of fabric, 1.5 yards in size. Select pattern for one side of the blanket and a coordinating solid color for the other.

Step 4: Time to party! Gather your group and make your blankets.

Step 5: Take photos! We would love to see photos on social media of your group volunteering – don’t forget to tag United Way of Cass-Clay.

Step 6: Drop your blankets off at the new United Way office (4351 23rd Ave. S, Fargo) by May 7.

Share the Impact

While doing this project, it’s a great opportunity to discuss the impact of your time and donation. Here are some conversation starters:
- Why is it important that we time to help people?
- How does it feel to help others in need?
- What do you like about doing this together as a group?

Because of your kindness, children will have a cozy blanket to cuddle up with at night. Without help from you and other people that are kind, many kids might not have a blanket to sleep with at night. That is why volunteering and caring for others is so important.
